

GINTLEMAN BLACK

The botanicals include juniper, cardamon, angelica, ginger, sweet orange peel and seven others. These are macerated together and then have a triple distillation resulting in a very pure, translucent gin.

On the nose the citrus elements dominate, but on the palate a spicy character develops thanks to the herbs and spices.

An IWSC medallist. A well reviewed gin at all the tastings.

Serve cold with tonic water. It will not disappoint!
